

BEVERAGE SYSTEMS & FLAVOURS TECHNOLOGY

Your needs... our solutions...

Kerry is a leading global supplier of flavours and flavour-based systems for the soft and alcoholic beverage markets. With our key primary extraction capabilities in natural flavourings and botanical extracts we are able to support your product proposition with innovative taste solutions.

Our key focus is on delivering outstanding and innovative taste, meeting the demands of the market and going beyond current consumer expectations through the application of our knowledge and experience in flavour and aroma technology.

In developing natural ingredients such as fruit, citrus and botanical extracts we are responding to increasing demand from our customers for more natural, more healthy and more authentic taste options. By developing flavour modulation technology (fmt™) we are able to support improved taste and mouthfeel in products formulated with less sugar. Our creative flavour expertise means that our technology solutions support your product proposition, our application expertise enables us to work with you on developing your next product success, and our sensory expertise ensures that we can support our product solutions with both technical and consumer insight.
